This year we will be holding our inaugural SOL Math Bee! Similar to the Oratorical Contest, this will be an intra-school competition. School of Rhetoric Varsity Mathletes Pranav Rupireddy (director) and Isaac Erickson (assistant director) will be hosting this competition beginning next month!

No preparation is required for this contest! Your math classes have prepared you! All interested SOL scholars are invited to participate, regardless of skill level!

Format

The format will consist of a preliminary written round, invitational whiteboard round, and a final buzzer round for the top three qualifiers from the invitation round.

Interested in participating?

No sign up... show up for the preliminary round on May 23rd and do your best! *Please bring a pencil and eraser with you as these will not be provided.
