

Parnassus Preparatory School

Safe Return to In-Person Learning Plan

Supplement to ESSER III Application

Created June 2021

Last Updated August 1, 2022

Prior to the enactment of the American Rescue Plan (ARP), Parnassus Preparatory School developed its Safe Learning Plan for the 2020-2021 School Year, in accordance with guidelines provided by the Minnesota Departments of Health and Education. The Safe Learning Plan met the statutory requirements of Section 2001(i)(1) and (2) of the ARP. As a condition of accepting the ESSER III award (FIN160 & FIN161), Parnassus Preparatory School must develop, with community input, a Safe Return to In-Person Learning Plan and post it for public comment within 30 days of receiving the ESSER III award (no later than June 21, 2021).

This Safe Return to In-Person Learning Plan must address the following:

- I. Health and Safety Strategies
- II. Continuity of Services
- III. Public Comment
- IV. Periodic Review Process
- V. Understandable and Uniform Format

Parnassus Preparatory School began the process for returning to in-person learning beginning in January of 2021. The plan will be regularly reviewed and updated as needed.

I. Health and Safety Strategies

Parnassus Preparatory School will maintain the health and safety of students, educators, and staff in each of the following health and safety areas:

Universal and Correct Wearing of Masks

There are currently no plans to implement a universal mask or face-covering requirement for the 2022-2023 school year. This section will be updated if the Minnesota Departments of Health and Education issue requirements for face covering on school property or on school-provided transportation.

Modifying facilities to allow for physical distancing (e.g., use of cohorts/podding).

For the 2022-2023 school year, no current plans are in place to require physical distancing between students, nor does the school plan to use pods or cohorts. This section will be updated if the Minnesota Departments of Health and Education provide guidance that requires physical distancing for students.

Handwashing and respiratory etiquette.

As part of the school's general health and safety practices, Parnassus Preparatory School will continue to train staff and students in handwashing and respiratory etiquette, following best practices recommended by the Minnesota Department of Health.

Cleaning and maintaining healthy facilities, including improving ventilation.

In the 2022-2023 school year, Parnassus will continue to observe rigorous cleaning and sanitation practices, following the most up-to-date guidance from the Minnesota Department of Health's recommendations for schools and childcare programs.

As of August 2021, the school has invested in HEPA air purifiers for all classrooms, offices, and common spaces. These will continue to supplement the school's high-quality ventilation system.

Contact tracing in combination with isolation and quarantine, in collaboration with the State, local, territorial, or Tribal health departments.

Parnassus phased out contact tracing beginning in January of 2022. At this time, Parnassus does not expect to conduct contact tracing related to COVID-19 exposure during the 2022-2023 school year.

Diagnostic and screening testing.

As of June 2022, the school is currently waiting on more information on testing opportunities and available funding for schools to provide testing to students, staff, and families in the upcoming school year.

Efforts to provide vaccinations to school communities.

As the COVID-19 vaccine became available to adults, and, later, to students aged 12 and older, Parnassus Preparatory School's COVID-19 coordinator worked with school administrators to provide information about vaccinations to the school community.

In the 2022-2023 school year, the school will continue to follow the guidance from state agencies and provide the most up-to-date information about COVID-19 vaccinations to the school community.

Appropriate accommodations for children with disabilities with respect to health and safety policies.

In the 2021-2022 school year, appropriate accommodations were made for children with disabilities with respect to health and safety policies.

In the 2022-2023 school year, special education case managers will continue to work with school administration and the school's COVID-19 coordinator to determine what accommodations are necessary and appropriate for children with disabilities with respect to health and safety policies.

Coordination with State and local health officials.

In the 2021-2022 school year, the school had a designated COVID-19 coordinator who liaised with State and local health officials and agencies.

In the 2022-2023 school year, Parnassus Preparatory School will continue to have a designated COVID-19 coordinator who will work with State and local health officials to ensure that the school is following the most-up-to-date requirements and guidelines.

II. Continuity of Services

Parnassus Preparatory School has taken and will continue to take actions to ensure continuity of services, including, but not limited to, services to address students' academic needs, as well as the social and mental well being of students and staff members.

Parnassus Preparatory School began bringing students back to in-person learning as part of a phased approach beginning in January of 2021. By April of 2021, students at all levels had the opportunity to return to in person learning for at least four days per week.

All levels remained in full-time, in-person learning during the 2021-2022 school year. At the time of this writing, Parnassus Preparatory School anticipates that the 2022-2023 school year will be completely in-person and a return to "school as usual."

III. Public Comment

Public comment is a key element of stakeholder engagement. Along with this plan, a public comment form will be posted on the school's website allowing the general public to give feedback on the plan. This feedback will be reviewed on a monthly basis by the school administration and COVID-19 coordinator.

IV. Periodic Review Process

Parnassus will review, and, as appropriate, revise this Safe Return to In-Person Learning Plan at least once every six months through September 30th, 2023. Each review must include seeking public comment on the plan and developing the plan after taking into account the public comment.

This plan will be reviewed at the start of each academic quarter. Public comment will be assessed and taken into account during each review period.

V. Understandable and Uniform Format

Federal regulations require that this plan be in an understandable and uniform format. Upon request, this plan is available to families via written or oral translation in a language that they can understand. Upon request by a family member who is an individual with a disability, this plan will be provided in an alternative format accessible to that individual.
