Deadline: Wednesday, September 11th
Informational Meeting: Monday, August 26th

Interested in capturing a moment in time through words and images? Do you have an eye for layouts? Can you use creative descriptions to share a story? Then use your finesse for photography, way with words, and eye for detail as a member of the Parnassus Publishing Club!

Our task is to preserve the year's memories in the 2024-2025 Parnassus Yearbook! We will be distributing the yearbook during the last week of the school year. In addition, yearbook members will also create a small supplement with spring activities, which will be distributed in the fall of 2025.

Scholars will be exposed to every aspect of the project including brainstorming book designs, photographing events, editing photos, mastering the Lifetouch Yearbook digital program, and writing descriptions, quotes, and short articles about our school.

This club will start by meeting approximately twice a month on Mondays, with optional meetings on opposite weeks for students to work on projects. Special assignments and additional meetings may be assigned as necessary as the publication deadline approaches. Please note that Publishing Club members are expected to serve as press members at events that take place outside of normal school hours and will need to arrange their own transportation for such events. Being a member of the Publishing Club is a substantial time commitment. Publishing Club members are expected to attend all regular Monday meetings, and additional meetings as needed, particularly as we get closer to the yearbook submission deadline in the spring.

Informational Meeting: Monday, August 26th, 3:45-4:15pm in Room 1124

All students interested in joining Publishing Club this year should attend this meeting, even if you've participated in previous years. Returning Club members, please plan to stay until 4:30pm.
